Report for the Year 1880-81.

SINCE the last Annual General Meeting two volumes have been issued to the members, being Nos. II. and IV. of the Society's series. These are an Index to the Lancashire and Cheshire Wills preserved at Chester, from the earliest date c. 1545 to the year 1650, and they have been edited by Mr. J. P. Earwaker, M.A., F.S.A. From them it is now possible for anyone to ascertain at once what wills, relating to any particular family, are there preserved, and also whether any will of which he may be in search is to be found there or not. They are based upon the MS. Index of Wills in use at the Probate Court at Chester, but whereas in the latter the names are arranged under the respective years, in the printed Index they are arranged in strict alphabetical order, the date of the will being added to each entry. Roughly speaking these two books are an index to about 25,000 wills. In order to render them as complete as possible, the editor has added a list of the early wills copied into the Registers or Enrollment Books at the Bishop's Court, Chester; a list of the wills printed by the Chetham Society; a list of the wills examined by the Revs. J. and G. J. Piccope, and since then either lost or destroyed; and a list of the wills found in one of the Harleian MSS. in the British Museum. To the second volume is appended a list of the Lancashire and Cheshire wills proved in London during the Commonwealth period 1650—1660, and also a list of the Administrations granted in London during the same period. To each volume the editor has added an Introduction which contains much information bearing upon the Lancashire and Cheshire wills, &c. For permission to transcribe and print this Index the Society is greatly indebted to Sir James Hannen, President of the Probate Division of Her Majesty's High Court of Justice. It is also worthy of remark that this is the first instance in which this permission has been granted, and the great advantage which such Indices are to antiquaries and literary workers is so apparent, that other societies in various parts of the country are desirous of following the example set them by the Record Society.

With regard to future volumes, the Council have much pleasure in directing attention to the following list:—

Volume V., the second for the year 1880-81, will be the Registers of the parish church of Prestbury, co. Chester, from the year 1560 to 1636, edited by Mr. James Croston, F.S.A. The transcript has been very carefully made under the editor's supervision, and the MSS. is now in the printer's hands. These Registers are very full, and contain very many entries of local interest and importance, the parish of Prestbury being one of the largest, if not the largest, in Cheshire. It is very noteworthy that the original paper Register, from which the parchment Register was copied c. 1600, was found a few years ago at the bottom of the parish chest, and the variations which occur between the two will be duly noted.

Volume VI., the first for the year 1881–2, will be one containing "Cheshire and Lancashire Funeral Certificates," from the Harleian and Lansdown MSS. in the British Museum, and a few from the Public Record Office. This, which will be edited by Mr. J. Paul Rylands, F.S.A., will be found to contain much genealogical information of great value, giving authoritative details of family history, not to be found in the Heralds' Visitations or elsewhere. If found practicable this volume will be illustrated with woodcuts of arms, autographs, &c.

Volume VII., the second for the year 1881–2, will be that, to which attention was specially directed in the last Annual Report, as having been kindly undertaken by Mr. Walford D. Selby of the Public Record Office, London. In this book Mr. Selby, who has charge of the Search room there, has brought together the various classes of manuscript materials preserved in the Record Office, which relate to Lancashire and Cheshire, and nothing will better afford an idea of the immense amount of information which is there preserved. Mr. Selby's object has been to show (1) the extent of the records, (2) their nature, and (3) their contents, and examples will be given of some of the most interesting. This volume is now completed, and has been placed in the printer's hands, so that it may be expected at no distant date.

Mr. J. A. C. Vincent has also been for some time engaged upon an exhaustive Report on "The Lancashire and Cheshire Subsidy Rolls," and has already completed his survey of the Lancashire lay subsidies, 363 in number. When the lay subsidies for Cheshire have been examined, and the clerical subsidies for the diocese of Chester, the work will be ready for the press, and will probably form two volumes of much interest relating to the two counties.

As pointed out in the Introduction to the List of Wills at Chester, most, if not all, of the North Lancashire wills were proved at Richmond, in Yorkshire. These "Richmond Wills," as they are commonly called, were in 1861 partly removed to Somerset House, London, and permission has been kindly afforded to the Society by Sir James Hannen to print the list of those relating to Lancashire, which are now there preserved. These commence c. 1550, and end in 1748 (those for the later years being now preserved at Lancaster), and it is calculated that there are no less than 20,000 Lancashire wills now at Somerset House. They are arranged under deaneries, those belonging to Amounderness and Furness Deaneries relating to Lancashire entirely, and those belonging to Lonsdale Deanery only in part. Arrangements are in progress for having the MS. Indices in use at Somerset House transcribed, and the volume will be edited by Lieut.-Col. Fishwick, F.S.A.

Next year being the Preston Guild year (held every 20 years), it has been suggested that the Guild Rolls, of which the earliest is dated 1397, and which abound in information relating to the chief Lancashire families, should, if possible, be printed before then, and the Council hope that they will be able to carry this into effect. The volume will be edited by Mr. W. A. Abram, who has kindly volunteered to transcribe the rolls for the Society.

The following works have also been suggested for publication to the Council:—

"Marriage Licences and Bonds at Chester."

"Institutions to Lancashire and Cheshire Churches, from the Episcopal Registers at Lichfield and Chester."

"Lancashire and Cheshire Wills proved in London, 1650 to 1660." To be edited by Col. Chester, LL.D.

"List of Cheshire Inquisitiones post mortem, with Calendars of Heirs."

"Inquisitions of Proofs of Age, Liveries, and Grants of Wardship, Marriage, &c."

"A Handy List of all the Lancashire and Cheshire Inquisitions post Mortem, the Subsidy Rolls, and other Public Records."

"The Chartulary of the Abbey of St. Werburgh at Chester."

"Royalist Composition Papers relating to Lancashire and Cheshire."

"Abstracts of Wills from Chester and Richmond."

"Local Parish Registers."

The Council desire to direct attention to Rule 5, which enacts that no volume shall be delivered to any member whose subscription is in arrear.

During the past year eighteen persons have joined the Society, and deducting the names of those who have died or resigned, and those whose names have been removed for non-payment of subscriptions, the total number of members now stands at 275. If this number could be increased the operations of the Society could be much extended, and it is hoped that the members will bring the Society to the notice of their friends.

The Balance-sheet, showing the receipts and expenditure of the Society for the current year, is given on the next page.

INTRODUCTION.

IN presenting to the members of the Record Society the first of what it is hoped may become a series of Parish Registers, it is unnecessary to dwell at any length on the value of such manuscript records. To the antiquary, the genealogist, and the man of law they furnish the most authentic materials for historical and biographical inquiry, and are invaluable as legal evidence; for, in the absence of Inquisitiones post mortem and Funeral Certificates, they are almost the only sources whence questions of descent and pedigree, or title to estate, can be satisfactorily determined.

It may be urged as an objection that in presenting Parish Registers in their entirety the Society will be encumbering its members with much useless and uninteresting matter; but it must be evident that if abstracts were alone given, they would, for historical and genealogical purposes, be almost worthless, and thus the very object for which the Society was founded—the reproduction of Original Records, so as to render them more readily accessible to those whose time for research is limited—would be frustrated, to say nothing of the difficulty, if not indeed impossibility, of separating the grain from the chaff,—of for no two antiquaries could be found to agree as to what should be excluded and what retained. Were it even practicable, it would be undesirable to limit such abstracts to families that in the past have had a recognised social position, for many of the descendants of the "rude forefathers" have in their day attained to eminence, and become the ancestors of families now holding rank and distinction.

The institution of Parish Registers is commonly attributed to Cardinal Ximenes, Archbishop of Toledo, who, in a synod held in his diocese in 1497, directed the keeping of such records in every parish, with the view of checking the disorders occasioned by the frequency of divorces in Spain. There is no doubt, however, that the practice prevailed at a much earlier date, for mention is made of such documents existing at Avignon, in France, as far back as the year 1308, but whether they were systematically kept or were merely private memoranda of the incumbent of the place is not clear. The precise period when Registers were first kept in England has not been clearly ascertained, though it is generally admitted they were first ordered to be kept by Thomas, Lord Cromwell, Lord Privy Seal and "Vicegerent to the King's Highness" on ecclesiastical matters, in an injunction issued 30 Henry VIII. (September, 1538),[1] the supposition being that Cromwell during his travels in Spain had borrowed the idea from the institution of Cardinal Ximenes. It ordains that every parson, vicar, or curate shall for every church keep a Book or Register, wherein he shall write the day and year of every Wedding, Christening, and Burial; and it further directs the manner and time of making the entries in the Register Book, weekly, in the presence of the churchwardens, any neglect therein being made penal. The fine imposed for neglect (three shillings and four pence) to be employed in the repairs of the church. The place of deposit of such Register Book to be a "sure coffer, with two locks and keys." Dr. Prideaux says that from this injunction "all Parish Registers have their beginning." There are, however, many Registers scattered throughout England which begin much earlier, the Parliamentary Parish Register Abstract, published as a blue book in 1833, enumerating no less than forty-nine Registers then existing as of prior date, one of them, the Register of Tonsor, in Northamptonshire, actually commencing in 1440. It is evident that an order had been issued sometime before 1538, probably in 1536, making provision for registration, for in the formidable insurrection which sprang up in the northern counties in the last-named year, under the designation of the "Pilgrimage of Grace," the list of grievances which the insurgents circulated among the common people was headed :—

[1] Burnet's "History of the Reformation," vol. i., p. 249.

The first is, that no infant shall reciue the blessed Sacrament of Baptisme, bott onlesse an trybett to be payd to the King.

Strype says "many of the clergy blew abroad that by means of registers the King intended to make new exactions at all chrystenings, weddyngs, and buryals." Before the Reformation Registers and Obituaries were kept in many of the religious houses, recording the marriages and the deaths of kings, princes, ecclesiastics, and other important personages; but that great religious revolution put an end to the monastic system. With the monasteries disappeared the monastic records and the Latinity in which they were entombed, and consequently other provision had to be made. The old religious life was passing away, but men had not as yet accustomed themselves to the new. The Monastic Commissioners had performed their office with more zeal than discretion; the public mind was greatly exercised; and when the new decree was issued, those interested seized it as a means whereby they could fan the smouldering fire of discontent into a flame. Under such conditions our Parish Registers first saw life. Cromwell being regarded as a favourer of ecclesiastical innovations, his orders were viewed with distrust, and but seldom complied with by the clergy; hence it is quite the exception to find Registers of so early a date.

As a consequence of this neglect a second order was made, 2 Edward VI. (1547), which was almost a literal copy of that issued in 1538 except that the penalty was directed "to be employed to the poore mens box of that parishe."[1] In the statutes of the national synod held by Cardinal Pole[2] in the reign of Queen Mary, an order is found directing that with respect to parish churches, the following particulars, amongst others, were to be observed by the Bishops in their visitations:—

"If the parish priest had a Register with the names of those who were baptized, of the sponsors, of the married, and the dead."

Notwithstanding the orders of Cardinal Pole, these parish journals had almost ceased before the end of Queen Mary's reign; but, in the beginning of that of her successor, they appeared again with fresh life. On the accession of Elizabeth the mandate of Edward VI. was repeated in more rigorous terms, and with this difference in the appropriation of the fines imposed for neglect of duty—"one half to be employed to the poor mens box, the other half to the repairing of the church." From this time the orders appear to have been more regularly observed, and many Parish Registers are found to date from the beginning of the Queen's reign, or as soon after as in small and remote parishes the mandate could be conveniently complied with. In Cheshire, as appears by the official return of 1831, there are only nine parishes in which the Registers are of prior date, five of them commencing in 1538, the year of Cromwell's injunction, two in 1539, and one in 1543 and 1557 respectively.[1]

[1] Sparrow's "Collect. of Articles," edit. 1675, pp. 4, 5.
[2] "Life of Pole," vol. ii., p. 137.

The Registers of Prestbury would appear to have been begun in obedience to the Queen's mandate, the first entry in the original or paper copy bearing date April 16, 1560.

Shortly after this time (March 9th, 1562–3) we find an office of registrarship appointed in each diocese to "survey, safe kepe, and streightly looke" to the church books, all parsons being at the same time enjoined to make entries of all and every their "church booke, notes, and remembraunce" under a penalty of ten shillings.[2] Notwithstanding all these provisions further injunctions were found necessary, and accordingly in the 39th Elizabeth (25th October, 1597) a constitution was made by the

[2] In the Churchwardens' Book of Trinity Church, Chester, there is an entry: "To the Queene's Commissioners, 30th of March, 1574, for that our Register was not kept according to the statute in that behalf provided, 10*s*."

Archbishop, Bishops, and Clergy of the province of Canterbury, and approved by the Queen under the Great Seal, which, after setting forth the great value (permagnus usus) of parochial Registers, laid down minute directions for their preservation,[1] and ordained that parchment register books should be provided at the expense of the parish, and that all the names from the older books (mostly of paper) should be therein transcribed from 1558, the year of Queen Elizabeth's accession.[2] It was at the same time ordered that copies of the Registers should be annually transmitted to the Episcopal Registrar, to be preserved in the episcopal archives; but the latter part of the injunction has unfortunately been so indifferently complied with, and in many instances the diocesan copies when supplied have been so carelessly kept, as to be mere fragments of what they should be, and they are generally in such a state of confusion as to be practically inaccessible. To this order we are indebted for such transcripts of the Registers as we possess, but there are comparatively few earlier than 1600 now preserved at Chester.

Some difficulty appears to have arisen at Prestbury in the attempt to carry out this order, and much trouble and disquietude ensued. Macclesfield, though situated within the parish, had a chapel of its own, and possessed a Register Book withal.[3] As a consequence the inhabitants considered themselves exempt from any parochial claims, and resisted the demand made upon them for the payment of their proportion of the cost of the new Parchment Register for the mother church, an act of contumacy which led to their being cited to appear in the Bishop's Court at Chester, as evidenced by the following entries in the Churchwardens' Books :—

[1] The Register of Christenings of Trinity Church, Chester, contains "a note of constitution for keepynge of Register Booke, 21 Oct., 1597, 39 Q. Eliz."

[2] Many Registers about this period begin with the words "initium regni dominæ nostræ Elizabethæ reginæ."

[3] The Macclesfield Register commences in 1572.

The Constitutions and Canons Ecclesiastical of the Church of England which are now in force date their authority from the beginning of the reign of James I. (anno 1603). The 70th canon directs that in every parish church and chapel within this realm shall be provided one parchment book at the charge of the parish, wherein shall be written the day and year of every christening, wedding, and burial which have been in that parish since the time that the law was first made in that behalf, so far as the ancient books thereof can be procured, but especially since the beginning of the reign of the late Queen. For the safe keeping of the book "one sure coffer, with three locks and keys" is to be provided at the charge of the parish; but the only requirement beyond what the previous Acts had recited is, that to the names of all persons christened the names and surnames of their parents shall be added. In parishes where the practice of making the entries in paper books had continued without regard to the mandate of 1597, orders were given that they should be written afresh from the original paper copies, word for word without any addition. Whether any such order was given in the case of Prestbury we have no means of knowing; but it is clear the law had been disregarded, for the entries continued to be made in the original paper Register until September, 1606, more than three years after the canon had come into force. In the "Inventary" taken in 1602 of "all the Churchegoodes belongynge to the parrysh church of Prestburye," though "a Regyster booke in paper for Chrystenynges, weddynges, and buryinges" is included, no mention is made of any parchment Register; but in the churchwardens' accounts for 1604–5 the following suggestive entries occur:—

Itm for partchments.
Itm paidd for wrytinge the Register & other accomts.

Prestbury is the mother church of an extensive and important parish, comprising within its area a large portion of the Hundred of Macclesfield. At the present time it includes no less than thirty-two townships, viz.: Adlington, Birtles, Bollington, Bosley, Butley, Capesthorne, Chelford, Fallibroome, Henbury, Hurdsfield, Kettleshulme, Lyme-Hanley, Macclesfield, Macclesfield Forest, Marton, Mottram St. Andrew, Newton, North-Rode, Pott-Shrigley, Poynton, Prestbury, Rainow, Siddington, Sutton, Tytherington, Upton, Wildboarclough, Wincle, Lower Withington, Old Withington, Woodford, and Worth. It originally comprehended within its limits the two parishes of Taxal and Gawsworth, and, it is believed, the township of Nether Alderley, the whole embracing a tract of country forty miles in circumference.

Although unnoticed in the Domesday survey, the name, Priest-burg—the priest's burg or town—indicates a pre-Norman origin, and suggests the idea that an ecclesiastical settlement or outpost existed here before the Conquest, and that the church had been destroyed by the invaders at that epoch, an opinion that is in some measure confirmed by the discovery within the last few months, during the restoration of the present fabric, of the fragments of a stone cross, the sculptured ornament on which is undoubtedly Saxon work. In 1153 the church with all belonging to it (cum omnibus pertinentiis) was given by Hugh Kyvelioc, palatine Earl of Chester, to the Abbey of St. Werburgh in that city; his son, Ranulph Blundeville, on succeeding to the earldom in 1181, confirmed the gift, and it remained in the possession of the Abbey until the dissolution of religious houses in 1537, when the manor and the advowson of the church were granted by letters patent to the newly-created Dean and Chapter of Chester, who, in 1580, quit-claimed their rights in the manor, impropriate rectory, and advowson to Thomas Legh of Adlington, whose descendant, Charles Richard Banastre Legh of Adlington, Esquire, is the present possessor.

The Parish Registers, as previously stated, commence in 1560, and the original Register in which the entries continued to be made until the year 1606 are still preserved, though a few of the leaves at the commencement have been injured by damp. The book is a quarto in form, measuring 12 inches by 9, and Mr. Earwaker, in his "East Cheshire," remarks that it is the only instance he has met with of the preservation of the old Register in any parish in the Macclesfield Hundred. The entries in the first year give the names and dates only, but afterwards the township to which the several persons belonged is in nearly every instance recorded. The earliest parchment book, that now reproduced, is a folio measuring about 15¼ by 6½ inches, and has the appearance of having been written while in loose sheets, which have subsequently been stitched together and enclosed in a parchment binding. From this our transcript has been made, the earlier entries having been carefully collated with the original paper Register, and any discrepancies that occur in the parchment copy marked in brackets. The transcript from the original Register, as well as the earlier entries in that of later date, appear to have been made by Richard Normansell, who filled the office of churchwarden in 1604, and who was doubtless of the family—the father possibly—of Hugh Normansell, usher of King Edward's Grammar School, Macclesfield, temp. Charles I. Normansell appears to have acted as scribe for many years, there being frequent mention in the churchwardens' accounts of payments to him for "p'chmt and engrosseinge one yeares Register" and "ffor p'fectinge our accompts and engrosseinge the same." The entries are engrossed in a clerkly hand, and the work appears to have been done at the close of each year from the actual records made by the minister from time to time officiating.

The following table exhibits the number of baptisms, weddings, and burials in each decennial period :—

Years.	No. of Baptisms.	No. of Weddings.	No. of Burials.
1560 to 1569	315	295	394
1570 to 1579	443	342	455
1580 to 1589	457	389	542
1590 to 1599	419	431	648
1600 to 1609	422	408	575
1610 to 1619	463	486	573
1620 to 1629	525	576	618
1630 to 1636 (seven years)	422	313	557

In many parishes the Register served as a kind of notebook for the clergyman, and, in addition to the ordinary prosaic chronicles of the living and the dead, is found to contain miscellaneous memoranda of local interest, brief but pregnant notes on passing events, and the ever-varying circumstances of parochial life; marking the contrary tides and the ebb and flow of thought and action, and recalling past scenes and incidents with a vividness that requires only the warm heart to give the actual throb of life. At Prestbury, however, little beyond the short tale of baptism, and marriage, and burial is told. The old but now obsolete phrase, "Sir," prefixed to the names of ecclesiastics occasionally crops up; now and then mention is made when a death has been caused by accident or violence, or some poor homeless wanderer has been found dead in the fields. In a few instances the exact time of the birth is recorded, probably to give facility to the astrologer who might afterwards wish to "cast the nativity" or tell the fortune of the child. One noticeable feature is the number of base-born children entered in the register of baptisms, the name of the reputed father being occasionally recorded, as well as that of the mother. Perhaps the most interesting entries are those appended at the close of the year 1632 and 1633—the licences granted to sick and aged persons to eat flesh-meat during Lent.[1] They are as follows:—

THO. JEYNSON Vic.[2]

[1] The keeping of Lent was enforced by proclamation, and an office granting licenses to eat flesh in any part of England was established in St. Paul's churchyard, but the relaxation was not unfrequently obtained by a gift of money to the poor. In the "History of Henley" a list is given of persons who in 38 Elizabeth (1595-6) were presented for eating flesh in Lent.

[2] For an account of Lucie Gobert, the aged widow of John Gobert, Esq., see note p. 295. Thomas Legh of Adlington, to whom a similar license was given, was her son-in-law. Elizabeth, the wife of John Davenport of Marton, was the eldest daughter of Ralph Sneyd of Keel and Bradwell. The Marton Registers record the baptism of her two sons, Ralph and Vivian, on the 15th May, 1632, and 27th May, 1633, respectively. Francis Pott was of the family of that name of Pott in Shrigley;

A few leaves are bound up with the Register at the end of the volume, on which are written various memoranda relating to the affairs of the parish. The first entry has reference to a custom that had existed from time immemorial with respect to payments for "the use and reparacon of the Church of Prestburie," and which appears to have been peculiar to the parish—a ley or assessment, resembling in some respects the ordinary church-rate, but locally known as serage or cerage silver, the survival probably of the "wax-money" allowed to the vicar by the Abbey of St. Werburgh, Chester, in accordance with an agreement made about the end of the thirteenth or the beginning of the fourteenth century. It is headed—

A true Coppie of an Order concerninge the Church of Prestburie, as followeth. At Prestburie the vjth of December A^{o} Dñi 1558.

After reciting the "duties and Laudable Customs as of Longetyme have been due and accustomed to be paid," the order sets forth the apportionment for each township liable, with the names of those persons who "subscrybed did agree and consent" thereto, "as well for themselves as the rest of the parish." At the foot is added—

M^{d} — That this Order to be True George Barber hath acknowledged the same before us the 28th of ffebruarie 1600.

EDWARD WARREN
THOMAS LEGHE.

The next entry is a copy of "An old Order Taken and of Long Tyme used by the Consent of the whole parish of Prestburie" for "the deviding & the better repayringe or mayntenninge of the churchyard." This is followed by the copy of an agreement "Anno d^{m} 1608 decimo Decembris," "made betwixt Mr Thomas Stapleton of Upton theldest on the one p^{te} And Thomas Coller clarke Edward Barlowe thelder and Edward Barlowe the younger and ffrancis Barlowe in the behalfe of all the tennts in ffalibroome on the other ptie. for & concrninge the Repayringe & the continuall upholdinge for eur. of that part & porcon of the Church yard walle of Prestburie belonginge he was buried at Macclesfield, October 31, 1638. The name of William Burgess frequently occurs as a juror in Inquisitions taken in the Macclesfield Hundred in the latter part of the sixteenth century, and was doubtless the person of the same name who served the office of Mayor of Macclesfield 1628-9, and the father of William Burgess appointed by the Puritan party to the vicarage of Taxal circa 1644.

to the foresaide townships of Upton and ffallibroome." The inhabitants of each township having, as it would seem, had a certain portion of the ground in the churchyard, which they undertook to keep fenced and in order, reserved for their exclusive use, a practice that was not unusual.

Another interesting memorandum is "An Inventary of all the Churchgoodes belongynge to the parrysh Church of Prestburye" made in 1602. Under date "December 1598" particulars are given respecting "a laye for the poore and maymed soldyo^rs^ w^th^in the sayed parrishe as it was augmented by y^r^ or week in december 1598."[1] This is the last note recorded, and on the back of the leaf is written in another hand :—

The four names following that of the vicar are those of the churchwardens of the time, and the note was probably made when the book was recovered after the Restoration, when it had been for many years concealed to protect it from the chances of destruction at the hands of the Cromwellian soldiery, as evidenced by the following entry in the second volume of Registers :—

During the tyme of War this and the other parchment Register were for their p^r^servation for severall yeeres hid and the Registers taken in paper were in Valentine Brathwayt's custodie, whereof some part by hiding were spoyled other pulled in peeces and defaced & that for divers yeeres. Soe much out of them all as could be made certayne is herein enterred.

The principal families in the parish whose names occur in the Registers are the Leghs of Adlington, the Warrens of Poynton, the Pigots of Butley and Bonishall, the Davenports of [1] One of the statutes of Elizabeth provided that "all parishes within this Realm of England and Wales shall be charged to pay weeklie such sume of monie towardes the reliefe of sicke, hurte, and maimed souldiers and mariners soe as no Parishe be rated above the sume of tenne pence, nor under the sume of two pence weeklie to be paide." This Act was confirmed by a decree of the Commonwealth passed May 28th, 1647, but the amount collected under its provisions being found inadequate—owing to the long continuance of the war and the consequent increase in the number of applicants for relief—an increased rate, not to exceed 2s. 6d. per week from each parish, was sanctioned by Parliament August 10th, 1647.

Marton, Woodford, and Henbury, the Downes of Shrigley, the Worths of Tytherington, the Birtles of Birtles, the Swettenhams of Somerford and Birtles, and the Thorneycrofts of Thorneycroft. Among the lesser gentry may be named the Duncalfs of Foxwist, the Newtons of Park House, the Stapletons of Upton, the Barlows of Fallibroome, the Mottersheads of Mottram-Andrew, and the Shrigleys of Beristowe. In addition to these there are numerous entries relating to the families of Adshead, Allen, Barber, Birchenough, Blackshaw, Clarke, Crowther, Dale, Dowley, Hollinshead, Kelsall, Lea, Linney, Mottram, Normansell, Oldham, Pickford, Pimlott, Pott, Skelhorn, and Ward. Many of these names are still common in the locality, an evidence that the families have been resident in the parish for centuries past.

There are no peculiarities in the Christian names deserving of note, and it may be mentioned that there is no instance throughout the volume of a double Christian name, the practice of double names being then exceedingly rare.[1]

It only remains to express the obligations the members of the Society are under to the Rev. Canon Wilson, M.A., Vicar of Prestbury, for the readiness with which he acceded to the request of the Council for permission to transcribe the Registers of his parish, and for the facilities he has at all times afforded for carrying out the work.

[1] Park-house, in Butley, now occupied by a farmer, was for several generations the residence of a branch of the Newtons, descended probably from the Newtons of Newton and Pownall. Edward Newton of Butley, who died in 1589, and to whose memory there is a small brass in Prestbury Church, was the father of Thomas Newton, the celebrated writer and Latin poet, who, in 1583, was presented by Queen Elizabeth to the rectory of Little Ilford, in Essex.

[1] Richard Sutton, who succeeded as heir to the patrimonial lands in Sutton, was only seven years of age at the time of his marriage. He was slain at Chester Assizes, Sept. 24, 1601, "by some of Mr. Beeston's company, by his own seeking" (MS. Diary of Sir Thomas Stanley), and was buried in the cathedral there. His wife, daughter of Thomas Legh of Adlington, survived him, and re-married Thomas Molyneux of Hawksley, co. Lanc.

[1] By a curious mistake this death was registered under date February 5th in the preceding year. Thomas Legh, who was born in June, 1547, rebuilt the hall of Adlington, and was Sheriff of Cheshire 1588. By his wife Sybil, daughter of Sir Urian Brereton of Honford, knt., he had, with other issue, Urian Legh, his heir, who served under the Earl of Essex at the siege of Cadiz in 1596, and was then knighted for his gallantry.

[2] The "Waters," in Bollington, was long the residence of a family named Green.

[2] Daughter of Thomas Stapleton, by his first wife, Ursula, daughter of Thomas Bushel of Brode Marston, co. Gloucester. [1] Peter Legh afterwards served as captain in the Royalist army, and was made prisoner at Naseby. He married Elizabeth, daughter of John Young of Plumley, co. Salop.

[2] Alexand Rigby of Middleton in Goosnargh, co. Lancaster, who afterwards became a Baron of the Exchequer, M.P. for Wigan, and served with distinction in the Parliamentarian army. He married (1) Lucy, daughter of Sir Urian Legh of Adlington, and (2) Anne, widow of Thomas Legh, the sister-in-law of his first wife. The son whose baptism is here recorded served as lieutenant-colonel in the Parliament army, and married for his second wife his cousin, Margaret daughter of Thomas Legh of Adlington.

[1] Thomas Green, whose gravestone may still be seen on the south side of the churchyard, was a kinsman of Thomas Newton, the Cheshire poet—cousin probably—and the father of Edward Green, "minister of the Gospell," buried at Prestbury, May 15, 1648.

[1] Thomas Jeynson was presented to the vicarage of Prestbury, April, 1627, and held the living for the long period of forty years, retaining undisturbed possession through the eventful periods of the Civil Wars, the Usurpation, and until some years after the Restoration. He died May, 1667. The Thomas whose baptism is here recorded was the eldest of his five sons.
